PACKERS SHOULD PAY THE PIPER

Senator Proctor Attacks House Substitute for Meat Inspection Bill.

BEVERIDGE AGREES WITH HIM

Lodge Says Their History is One of Defiance of Law and Public Opinion.

Washington, June 29.- Senator Proctor today called up in the senate the agricultural appropriation bill, and made the usual motion for agreement to the request for a conference. He then made a statement conserning the house substitute for the meat inspection bill, saying there were essential points of difference between the two houses. One of these, he said, was the emission by the house of the senate provision requiring that the date of inspection be placed on cans containing meat, and the other the transfer of the cost of inspection from the packers to the national treasury. Speaking of the latter change, he said that it was radical, and, in his opinion, unwise: and advised that the house amendm on that point be not accepted. The packers could, he declared, afford the expense of an advertisement, for, looked at in that light, the government ce tificate would be of immense beneat Mr. Proctor also charged that the numerous protests which have been coning to the senate on this subject have common origin in Chicago, and in sup-port of his statement read a number of protests to show the language to be practically the same wherever they may be dated. Senator Beveridge agreed with Mr house changes in the matters of date of label and cost of inspection, but ex-pressed gratification that the pravision for night surveillance had been retained. The two essential changes he coned. The two essential changes he considered as most important, declaring that if the date is not to be used it will be possible to pass off as fresh meat that which may have been inspected five years ago. He said that the date was stamped on meat shipped abroad, and argued that the same plan should be pursued with reference to meat consumed at home. Why, he asked, should the people pay for the packers' inspection and not the packers themselves.

And, agreeing with Mr. Proctor, said tion and not the packers themselves, and, agreeing with Mr. Proctor, said the guarantee stamp would be worth $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 for advertising purposes. Looking at the matter in that light, the cost of inspection would not be a burden because the inspection would be a great benefit. The cost would at the most be infinitesimal—$ cents per head for cattle and 5 cents for swine. It would be impossible for packers to increase the price of meat or decrease that of stock on account of or decrease that of stock on account of this slight charge; hence, the alarm on this slight charge; hence, the alarm on this account was groundless.

The inspection should be paid out of the profits of the packers themselves, and not by the government, the stock-growers nor the consumers. He predicted that the house appropriation would be inadequate to meet all the derivate on it, while the few system. demands on it, while the fee system provided by the senate would adjust itself to the demands made upon it. He pointed out that national banks pay for their inspection, as do eleomarga rine manufacturers, and even immirants coming into the United States. Hence, the proposition is not novel. If, he said, the plan is to be changed there will be a vast drain on the treasury would soon be required for meat in-spection alone. He said the packers alone are responsible for the agitation that had been aroused, but predicted that in the end the result would be a restoration of confidence and therefore beneficial. He credited the prospecpresident, who had stood firmly from the beginning for the most complete Inspection bill on the statute books of Senator Lodge also spoke for the senate provision, although he said it might be considered "audacious to do so in view of the annermement that the house had perfected the measure and the president had accepted it." He pleaded especially for the dating of lu-bels, because the public has the right to know what it is buying. He did not agree that the producers and the consumers would not feel the effect of the tax, for, judging the future by the past, the packers would find in a tax of a few milis an excuse for an the meat they sell and a similar de-crease on the stock they buy. Neverthe less, he thought the packers should pay the cost. He charged the Chicago pay the cost, he had no defeat the leg-The attack from Europe did not alarm

Mr. Lodge very much, for he said that practises in foreign countries are no whit better than our own. He read newspaper extracts to show that in England rotten eggs are used in making pastry, and fevered cattle are butchered for beef, and also quoted an ar-ticle from an English review to show that morals in that country are not all they should be.

Discussing the group of men in con-trol of the packing industry, Mr. Lodge said their history has been one of utter defiance of law and public opinion. He referred to a recently published interview with Nelson Morris, in which this great packer showed contempt for writers of books, and the Massachusetts writers of books, and the Massachusetts senator said the writing of a book brought about the present situation, and it may occur to the packers that "the writ' ig of books is not so con-packing and Standard Oil monopolies, said Mr. Lodge, have done more to adin the world. He said the people would resent having their food tampered with and made sport of mere greed for mon-ey, and that they are rightly insist-ing that these packers he put on the same basis as manufacturers of other foods whose products are inspected. Senator Warren defended the packers and denounced as "simply monstrous" the proposition of Mesers. Beveridge and Proctor that they should be required to advertise their business in a prescribed way. He said the legislation is almed at the farmers and stock-growers, and contended that, instead of taxing them and the packers for the proposed inspection, the entire country should may the expense,

Suffered for a Long Time Without Relief-Had Three Doctors and Derived No Benefit-One Doctor Was Afraid to Touch Them -Soreness Disappeared and Hands Now Smooth After Application of

"For a long time I suffered with sores on the hands which were itching, painful, and disagreeable. I had three doctors and derived no benefit from any of them. One doctor said he was afraid to touch my hands, so you must know how bad they were; another said I never could be cured; and the third said the sores were caused by the dipping of my hands in water in the dye-house where I work. saw in the papers about the wonderful cures of the Cuticura Remedies and procured some of the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. In three days after the application of Cuticurs Ointment my hands began to peel and were better. The sore-ness disappeared, and they are now smooth and clean, and I am still working in the dye-house.

"I strongly recommend Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment to any one with sore hands, and I hope that this letter will be the means of helping other sufferers. Very truly yours, Mrs. A. E. Maurer, 2340 State St., Chicago, Ill., July 1, 1905."

Several rabbis made speeches in English, after which Rabbi Joseph Stiverman of the temple Emanuel spoke at length in English. After reading the president's message he said that it was the word of the chief magistrate as to diplomatic in terference, and it must prevail. He added that Congress could, however, amend the immigration bill now pend-ing before it so as not to make it apto immigrants fleeing from Russia to this country as a refuge from mas-sacre. ## U. S. CURRENCY SYSTEM THE BEST

Not Perfect Because Not Elastic, Declares Secy. of the Treasury Shaw.

ELKINS TALKS COMPETITION.

It and Individualism Are Parents of Trusts, Combinations and Colossal Fortunes

Elkins, W. V., June 20 .- Before the closing session of the West Virginia Bankers' association today the features were addresses by Secy, of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and United States Senator Elkins of this state. The convention was brought to a close tonight with a banquet at the home of Senator Secy. Shaw said:

"The fact, and I think it is a fact. that the United States has the best currency system in the world does not imply that the currency system of the United States is perfect or that it cannot be improved. It is most conveni-ent system of the world because it is constructed on the decimal or metric system. The system is not perfect largely because it is non-elastic. It fails to respond in volume to the changing needs of seasons and of localities. That there will be no further currency legislation until we shall have experienced a panie occasioned by this want of elasticity, I am convinced.
"Let me define this defect more specifically. Annually we have an excess of money during the spring and summer months. Annually we pass through a period of anxiety as we approach the period of crop movement for an-nually the volume of money is relatively insufficient to meet this sudden increase of business.

"We do not need and must not have inflation. The average amount of money is in my judgment, abundant. The difficulty lies in the fact that the volume remains stationary."

Senator Elkins spoke on the income and inheritance tax, and said that the twentieth century was getting ready for the readjustment of the interests "Money in a certain sense is concentrated power." he said. "In a man's pocket it is a most loyal and unfailing friend. The most lonesome person in all the world is one walking the highways without a dollar. Money is an order on the world for what the world produces, and in all countries and climes this order is always honored.

"After a certain point wealth becomes a burden and robs its owner of ease and repose, yet I have observed how eager and willing people are to struggle along through life with the burdens of wealth upon them. Very rich men never whistle. Poor men always do. Bird songs are in the hearts of the poor man. This is well. In every condition of life there is compensation."

Senator Elkins declared that poverty and want will yet be canished from the world. He said:

"There is enough wealth in the world now to prevent poverty, but we have not yet learned how to distribute it. We understand the ways of accumula-tion, but not of distribution. Society and government are constantly strug-gling with great questions. Society, under a free government, has reached the point where it can get what it de-mands, what is best for it, and protect itself without force."
Competition and individualism go hand in hand, said the senator, and up to a certain point are wholesome and beneficial to commerce and business.

"Unrestrained competition in the business world," he added, "throws society back on the cruel law of the survival of the fittest, and in the end the strong prevail and dominate. Competition and individualism are the parents of present conditions, of trusts, combinations and colossal fortunes. Theodore Roosevelt once said that he thought a compromise between individualism and Socialism would be best. I replied that apparently this might be a solution, but how could society get rid of the evils of both while holding on to their benefits?"
